

THURSDAY EVENING, AUG. 11, 1904

From Washington.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.

Secretary of the Navy Morton, accompanied by Mrs. Morton and their daughter and niece, Misses Pauline and Jean Morton, and Attorney General Moody and Chairman Foss, of the House naval affairs committee, left Washington today for an extended cruise on the Dolphin, during the course of which they will visit the principal naval stations on the New England coast. At Newport they will be joined by Speaker Cannon and Miss Helen Cannon. They will be in Boston on August 17 to attend the launching of the Cumberland, which will be christened by Miss Jean Morton. The Attorney General will leave the party at this point to spend his vacation at his home in Massachusetts. The cruise will occupy about two weeks.

Representatives Foss, of Illinois, and Curtis, of Kansas, were early morning callers at the White House. Mr. Foss, who is chairman of the House naval affairs committee, came to "pay his respects" before he left on a cruise with the Secretary of the Navy, and Mr. Curtis visited the President's office to say that Kansas "is going 40,000 or 50,000 republican this fall." Mr. Foss predicted a majority of at least 75,000 in his State. "The republicans of Illinois are unfitted and the democrats are not," said Mr. Foss.

Although it is now late in the afternoon at Constantinople no word has come to the State Department from the Porte. It seems very probable that he is still pursuing his regular tactics, promising satisfaction, and then waiting a few days before renewing the same illusory promise.

A fraud order was issued by the Post-office Department today against the United States Cereal Company, of New York City. It was managed by Jno. R. MacKnight. The company did a commission business in wheat and other grains and is charged with having issued circulars declaring fictitious dividends.

Prominent negroes of this city are inaugurating a movement for the creation of a "law and order" fund for the protection of persons attacked by mobs. The men behind the movement desire to incorporate a "law and order" building and loan association with a reserve fund of $40,000. "Law abiding citizens of the United States are to be protected by the new organization. A reward ranging from $250 to $500 is to be paid for the arrest and conviction of the leader of any mob which destroys the life of an American citizen." The heirs of any man killed by a mob or any officer killed while protecting a man from mob violence are to receive a sum not in excess of $500. Edward Lewis, of 1510 10th street northwest, is in charge of the new association.

Theophilus Roelle, of the Arlington Hotel in this city, who died yesterday in Paris, carried life insurance aggregating $250,000. He recently applied for $100,000 additional, but the risk was refused by the company.

Secretaries Taft and Shaw, Postmaster General Payne and Patrick Egan, former Minister to Chile, lunch with the President yesterday. Mr. Egan formerly was an anti-imperialist, and supported Bryan four years ago. He has announced that he will support Mr. Roosevelt this year, and the luncheon yesterday was given in his honor.

Information was received by the State Department this morning that the Russian torpedo boat, which yesterday put in at Chefoo, China, bringing information of a naval engagement off Port Arthur, has asked permission to disembark and remain in Chefoo harbor until the end of the war. The Chinese government, so the State Department is informed, has the request under consideration. U. S. Minister Lloyd Garrison, at Tokio, cables to State Department in the morning's date that it is officially announced there that the Russian squadron at Port Arthur emerged yesterday and that a battle ensued throughout the entire day with the combined Japanese fleet. He says the results have not yet been ascertained at Tokio. United States Consul Fowler, at Chefoo, reports to the department by cable that a Russian torpedo boat has arrived there from Port Arthur and reports that a fierce engagement took place there yesterday.

Wm. H. Thompson, treasurer for the St. Louis Exposition Company, today called on the President to invite him to visit the exposition some time in the near future. He is fixed by his contract. The President declined the invitation with regret, on the ground that it is an unwritten law that the President should not go on such a trip during a Presidential campaign.

Married Her Assailant.

With her face shockingly disfigured by slashes from a knife inflicted by her fiancé who had been jealous of her, Tillie Metiste a girl of 21, of Williamsburg, N. Y., appeared in the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday not to prosecute the man, but to forgive him. Then she was married to him by Magistrate Furlong. Joseph Salzarulo, 23 years old, was the young man in the case. He had been asking the girl for more than a year to marry him. She kept putting off the event. On the night of July 24, while they were out for a walk, Salzarulo asked the girl again to marry him, and on her refusal he drew a knife and slashed her face in a pitiless manner. Then he ran away. The girl was carried to her home, and a surgeon who was summoned had to stitch up her wounds. Salzarulo was arrested, and later held in $2,000 bail for a hearing yesterday. He was unable to furnish a bond and was sent to jail in the meantime. When he was brought to the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday and his eyes fell on the girl, whose face is disfigured for life, tears filled his eyes. The girl also cried. "Forgive me," was all the prisoner could say, and then he buried his face in his hands. The girl expressed a willingness to forgive Salzarulo for what he had done, and the pair were told to sit down and talk the matter over. This they did, and the girl promised to become Mrs. Salzarulo and Magistrate Furlong united the pair. After the marriage the magistrate endorsed on the complaint that the girl had been stabbed accidentally and then dismissed it.

The New Trolley Road.

So far as can be learned no decision has yet been made as to the route for the new trolley road from Winchester to a point in Alexandria county. One route is by way of Berryville and the other is by way of Boyce and Millwood. The committee appointed to look over the two routes are expected to make their report in a short time, and work will be commenced as soon as possible thereafter. There has been considerable opposition to the Berryville route, but it is hoped this opposition will subside and that we will have the road through there, as it would be of vast benefit to all our business houses, as well as offering first-class power facilities for mills and factories. Cardinal Saffold and his party sailed yesterday on the steamer Sardegna for Europe.

News of the Day.

Of the 153 passengers on the Missouri Pacific flyer wrecked near Pueblo, Col., a few days ago, 82 bodies have been found and 33 are missing.

Francis Burton Harrison, who represents the Thirtieth New York district in Congress, is spoken of as a democratic candidate for governor of that State.

President Roosevelt has appointed Mr. Regis H. Post, of New York, to be secretary of Porto Rico, and Mr. E. S. Rockwell, of the District of Columbia, to be auditor.

Miss May Handy, a noted beauty, is one of those persons reimbursed by Charles M. Schwab for losses sustained in the shipbuilding trust. She yesterday received a check from Schwab for $4,500.

Robbers yesterday broke into the desk of United States Consul General Gowdy, in Paris, stole the petty cash and some stamps, but were unable to break into the safe, which contained $5,000 in cash and some important documents.

The national convention United Daughters of the Confederacy will be held in St. Louis October 4, and the State convention meets in the same city on October 10. A large attendance at both meetings is anticipated.

In the congressional convention of the First district of Maryland yesterday ex-Governor Elihu E. Jackson was, on motion of ex-Governor John Walter Smith, unanimously nominated by the Eastern Shore democrats for Congress. His brother, Hon. William H. Jackson, has been already nominated by the republicans of the district for reelection.

A gas well producing 5,000,000 feet daily, was struck on Turkey creek, twenty miles southeast of Huntington, W. Va., yesterday. This is one of the greatest "gassers" in the State. Strange to say, the drill was down less than 300 feet when the crust was penetrated and the drill was hurled 300 feet into the air, and a part of the rigging torn away.

SEVERE STORMS.

Berks county, Pa., was visited by a series of furious storms yesterday, which raged at intervals from in the morning until 8 last night, and at 6 p. m. the worst storm of the season struck Reading.

For an hour the lightning flashes were incessant. Fully a dozen houses were struck, and a number of persons prostrated.

The downpour of rain was terrific. At Fifth and Buttonwood streets, the centre of the aristocratic section, houses were flooded and a number of families were taken from their homes in boats. Sewers burst in several parts of the city, and many of the unpaved streets resembled mountain paths rent and torn by raging torrents. The city was darkened last night, and the trolley service was badly crippled. The electrical disturbances knocked out hundreds of telephones in the city, besides cutting off communication with Boyertown, Birdsboro, Hamburg and Kingstown. In many parts of the county the storm was especially severe. Midway between Womelsdorf and Robeson a tornado did great damage. It cut a path one square wide across the entire Lebanon Valley. Severe damage by storms was also done in Pittston, Lebanon, Hanover and other cities and towns. Washouts are reported along the Northern Central and Western Maryland Railroads and bridges over streams in the country districts were carried away. Corn and newly-plowed fields were badly washed.

Attacked in the Dark.

Princess Anne county authorities yesterday ordered detectives and bloodhounds from Norfolk to pursue a man who committed an assault on Mrs. George W. Whitehurst early this morning. Mrs. Whitehurst is the wife of one of the surfmen of the Darn neck life-saving station, on the Atlantic coast six miles from Virginia Beach. Mr. Whitehurst was on duty Wednesday night. His wife and another woman were awakened by an intruder at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The man caught Mrs. Whitehurst, while the other woman ran screaming to the station where the life-savers were. The rescuing party ran to the scene. They found Mrs. Whitehurst prostrated and blood flowing from her mouth and eyes as the result of the choking she had endured, but not otherwise injured except by the dreadful fright. The man had escaped. It was too dark to recognize the criminal, but he is supposed to be a negro. Strong parties are in search of the man. The region is swampy and wild and if the assailant is caught he will probably never be brought to the small courthouse of Princess Anne, but lynched.

The spectacle of the bleeding and disheveled woman and the confusion of the room where the struggle occurred has enraged the neighbors, who have sworn vengeance.

If the man is caught it is believed a lynching will follow. A negro who is suspected worked, it is said, for Stormant & Dozier, fishermen, near Virginia Beach. The man did not show up for work yesterday morning.

Charges Against Officials.

Huntington, W. Va., is excited over the indictments returned against high officials charging them with accepting bribes from keepers of disorderly resorts, in order that certain privileges prohibited by the city's ordinances may be enjoyed. Those indicted are Chief of Police Morris Davis, Lieutenant of Police Samuel Davis, and Councilmen George W. Perry and George Pickering. The indictments charge the officers and councilmen with receiving $125 from keepers of resorts that they might sell spirituous liquors without license. Against the chief of police is a separate count charging him with receiving $100 from Jane Guster that an electric piano might operate daily and nightly. The grand jury brought in these indictments about 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, with 405 others, involving almost every violation of the law, from murder down. The people are enraged against their officials, and as the grand jury is still examining witnesses by the wholesale it is felt certain that more than 100 additional indictments will be returned against saloonkeepers and keepers of disorderly houses. A special meeting of council, acting with the mayor, will likely be called to take action suspending the accused officers until there is a complete investigation. The indictments against them, it is said, could be multiplied, but one or two specific charges were deemed sufficient by the American government.

The association is composed of churches in the counties of Fauquier, Loudoun, Fairfax, Prince William, Stafford, Alexandria, and Culpeper. There are fifty-two churches, fifty Sunday-schools, with a membership of 6,076, and twenty-three pastors.

Mr. Samuel Bernard Kaufman, of Chicago, and Miss Gertrude Beatrice Leterman, daughter of Moses Leterman, of Charlottesville, were married in the latter place yesterday evening. The original plans were for an elaborate wedding at the synagogue, but a death in the family necessitated a change, the event occurring instead at the home of the bride's parents, on High street, the ceremony being performed by Rabbi Edward N. Calisch, of Richmond. The bride entered the parlor with her father, Sol Hollander, of Pittsburgh, was best man; Miss Viola May Leterman, sister of the bride, maid of honor. After the reception which followed the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman left for a trip through Canada and around the lakes. Before returning to Chicago they will spend two weeks at the St. Louis Exposition.

Postoffice Robbed.

Poses are searching the woods in the vicinity of Woodmere, L. I., for three robbers who looted the postoffice in that village and carried away $900 after exchanging shots with the postmaster, who detected them making away with their spoils. More than 15 shots were fired before the robbers made good their escape, but it is thought that one bullet reached the mark, as one of the fleeing men was seen to limp, as if wounded in the leg. The postoffice at Woodmere is in the drug store of which George H. Koch is proprietor. On the second floor of the building are the sleeping apartments of Koch and his wife. The first intimation that robbers were at work came when a tremendous explosion shook the entire section of the town in which the drug store is located. Koch and his wife were awakened. The drugist went to the front window of the sleeping apartments and looked out. Across the street, in the shadow of a tree, he could see the outlines of a man's figure. At the same time Mrs. Koch went to one of the side windows and peered into the darkness. The man across the street stepped from the shadow and cried out: "Put your head in there!" At the same time he fired a pistol at Mr. Koch. Twice he fired, and both bullets landed in the window sill as Koch ducked behind the framework to safety. Then the man fired twice at Mrs. Koch, both bullets passing close to her head. Securing a shotgun and a pistol Koch turned upon the man. He emptied his shotgun at the man across the street, and then two men ran from the drug store postoffice and he fired his pistol at them. Five bullets he sent speeding after the fleeing men, and he said later that one of them halted and seemed to have been injured. Then the three men fled in the darkness. Scores of citizens aroused by the explosion and the fusillade of shots which followed, were quickly on the scene, and a search for the fugitives was begun.

United States and Turkey.

Officials of the State and Navy Departments conferred yesterday regarding the orders to be given the American European squadron when it arrived at Smyrna. The naval officers, in answer to the inquiries of the State Department, estimated that Admiral Jewell's fleet would arrive at Smyrna last night. The Admiral's sailing orders were simply to proceed to Smyrna and officially he does not know of the purpose of his cruise. It is said that he probably will understand the situation so well that it will hardly be necessary, and in fact, will be rather inexpedient to give him any other orders immediately. His ships therefore probably will lie in the harbor of Smyrna in close touch with the cable and with Minister Leishman at Constantinople and with Washington. There are signs that the signatory powers to treaty of Paris are beginning to take active interest in the policy of the Washington government toward Turkey. They have every reason to dread any disturbance of the balance of power in southern Europe at this time, and it is believed that they are willing to bring influence to bear upon the Sultan to induce him to acquiesce in the American demands, rather than force the issue to a point where the use of actual force might be regarded as actually necessary by the American government.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Siege of Port Arthur.

London, Aug. 11.—A dispatch received by the Japanese legation this morning confirms, to a degree, the press dispatches reporting the emergence of the Russian fleet from Port Arthur harbor, and a subsequent naval engagement. The dispatch to the legation reads:

"Various reports from Talien-Wan show that the Russian squadron emerged from Port Arthur on the morning of August 10. A severe naval battle ensued continuing till sunset. In the night our torpedo flotillas seem to have attacked the enemy's squadron, for at dawn, on August 11, the Retvizan and another battleship, of the Pobieda type, appeared to be taking flight toward Port Arthur."

The Tokio correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company, wiring regarding the fight outside of Port Arthur, says the result of the torpedo attack is not known. The Retvizan and Pobieda were seen outside of Port Arthur this morning.

Continuing, the correspondent says: "The Russian fleet consisted of six battleships and four cruisers. The torpedo boats of the Russians, which are smaller than the Japanese vessels, opened fire on the Japanese. The pursuit lasted for two and a half hours."

The press dispatches vary from the legation report, in that the former assert that the Russian fleet eluded the watchful Japanese and steamed away from the port, escaping the line of vessels under Admiral Togo until they were well out to sea. The Japanese vessels are said to have given pursuit, and a naval engagement in the open sea is expected. These details cannot be confirmed and are in part denied in effect by the legation report, which states that the Russian battleships Retvizan and Pobieda were seen returning to Port Arthur this morning.

Tokio, Aug. 11.—The net of Japanese troops about Port Arthur is drawing daily closer. Heavy siege guns have been stationed in new positions and are now able to pour shell and heavy shot to the town from a high angle. These new positions also permit a well placed shelling of the ships in the harbor. This latter phase of the situation is probably what forced the Russian fleet to make the sortie yesterday, which was frustrated by Togo's vigilance.

Chefoo, Aug. 11.—The Russian torpedo destroyer which reached here from Port Arthur today, and which brought news of the Russian sortie from the port, is the Rechitini. According to the captain of the destroyer, the Japanese continue to attack Port Arthur in energetic fashion. Their line now extends from Luisa Bay on the north shore, to a point immediately east of Tachai Bay, which is about seven miles east of Port Arthur. The Japanese, he says, are wasting lives by their reckless courage. Positions are frequently lost and retaken, only to be lost and retaken again. Five passengers aboard the destroyer confirm the reports that the shells from Wolf Hill are falling in Port Arthur. Several civilians have been injured.

Chefoo, Aug. 11. p. m.—The steamer Tung Chow reports that she sighted six vessels during the night, in the vicinity of Chefoo, which she believes were Russians. It is rumored that a sea fight has occurred near Round Island, but this report cannot be verified.

London, Aug. 11.—A dispatch to the Central News from St. Petersburg says it is reported there that the Japanese have advanced against the Russian flank in neighborhood of Liao Yang. It is also reported that the Japanese have retired from some of their southern positions. Apparently the advance on Liao Yang has begun.

Chefoo, Aug. 11.—Sixteen Russian warships have been sighted off here.

Chefoo, Aug. 11.—Three Japanese torpedo boat destroyers are outside Chefoo harbor, watching for the Russian destroyer Rechitini, which arrived today from Port Arthur. A previous dispatch from Chefoo stated that sixteen Russian warships had been sighted off that port. If the above dispatch is true, the dispatch relative to the Russian warships being sighted must necessarily have been unfounded in fact.

London, Aug. 11. The Chefoo correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company says the report that the Russian warships Retvizan and Pobieda had returned to Port Arthur is denied.

Chefoo, Aug. 11.—A report is current this morning that the Japanese cruiser Kasagi was sunk in the naval battle which followed the sortie of the Russian fleet from Port Arthur harbor.

London, August 11.—A naval officer, who has watched the sea movements of the war in the East closely, said today that the latest developments indicated that the purpose of yesterday's manoeuvre was to get the hospital ship Mongolia out of Port Arthur to some friendly port. The Mongolia is known to have a large number of sick and wounded aboard, and besides there were women and children whom the Russians were anxious to get away. The closeness of the Japanese force attacking by land and the fact that their shells were dropping into the town and harbor, prompted the Russian Admiral to take the desperate resort of giving the enemy battle. Under cover of the fighting, the naval man thinks, the Mongolia and the Russian destroyer stole away. It is theory is correct the plan was successful. After the Russian Admiral saw that the Mongolia and her convoy were well on their way, it is probable that he withdrew his fleet again into Port Arthur. This is borne out by the fact that two Russian battleships were seen to return to the harbor after the fighting. What damage the Russian fleet sustained is not yet known.

Gasoline Blew Up.

Conshohocken, Pa., August 11.—The victim of a peculiar and distressing mishap, Mrs. George Staley, of this place, may die of terrible burns. She dropped a bottle of gasoline in the street Tuesday evening, and as she stooped to pick up the pieces, it is said Charles Brant, a neighbor, struck a match to see if the fluid was really explosive. It was, and he and she were terribly burned.

No Substitute Offered.

Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it pays a better profit, the fact still stands that ninety-nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when the best remedy for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know it is the one remedy that can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. Rich Wife Grew Jealous.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 10.—Arthur Burton Hutchinson, of Chester, Vt., a retired attorney, estimated to be worth $1,000,000, and Mrs. J. C. Hendrick, of Brooklyn, were arrested here yesterday by detectives, who have been on their track for two months. Mrs. Hendrick is the wife of the Brooklyn doctor who became famous a few months ago in the Laura Bigger case. Detective George Hall, of New York, and three local officers figured in the arrests, which were made on warrants sworn out before Alderman Ruddy by Mrs. Hutchinson. Hutchinson and his wife have heretofore spent their summers in Europe; but it is alleged that Scranton was chosen instead as the place where he and Mrs. Hendrick would come. Mrs. Hutchinson stated yesterday that Hendrick's family was very friendly with herself and husband, and that Mrs. Hendrick frequently enjoyed their hospitality at their New England home, the result being, she declares, the stealing of her husband's affections. Later Mrs. Hutchinson intercepted some letters sent to her husband, and, after reading them carefully, revealed them, and her husband received them without any suspicion that his wife was already in possession of their contents. In this way, it is alleged, Mrs. Hutchinson learned just where the couple were going to summer, and, with Detective Hall, followed them up until the arrest yesterday morning. Mrs. Hendrick stopped at a South Scranton hotel, and Hutchinson and she were arrested there yesterday. In the Alderman's office Hutchinson's lawyer, John F. Scragg, managed to make peace between the man and wife. Mrs. Hutchinson agreeing to withdraw the adultery charge and also divorce proceedings if Hutchinson would forego the company of Mrs. Hendrick. Dr. Hendrick expected to reach here yesterday to look after the case against his wife, whom he is also suing for divorce.

Alleged Murder Mystery Solved.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 11.—After three weeks of mystery that has agitated the entire State, it has been established that the supposed murder of Mrs. Aliene Butterfield, of Greene county, has no foundation in fact, and that she ran away from home because she learned that her husband had formed a liaison with another woman, homely, and old enough to be his mother. Mrs. Butterfield would never have been located but for the fact that she read a newspaper account of an attempt to lynch her husband as a supposed murderer. Bloody clothes had been found in a field and it was taken as conclusive evidence that a murder had been committed. Mrs. Butterfield, who had found employment here under an assumed name, determined to save her husband, and wrote a letter to the sheriff assuring him that she was alive and that her husband was no murderer. The sheriff came to Des Moines and found the woman yesterday after a long search. She will probably return home at once to secure the custody of her children.

Masked Men Torture Woman.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 10.—When she opened the door of her home in the West End of this city at 5 o'clock yesterday morning two masked burglars entered the kitchen of Mrs. Elbert Lutz and fiendishly attacked her. The burglars thrust a gag into her mouth and tied her feet; also wrapping a towel around her face. But one eye was uncovered, and when Mrs. Lutz saw the burglars enter another apartment she endeavored to crawl to the foot of the stairway to alarm her husband upstairs. One of the burglars saw her and struck her over the head with a heavy maul and cruelly tortured her. The noise made awakened her mother, who screamed, and the burglars fled. Mrs. George Landon, who lives next door to Mrs. Lutz, was attacked in her yard last Monday by a man, who leaped from behind a porch. Her screams frightened him away. The police think that Mrs. Landon's assailant is implicated in the Lutz case.

Made Herself a Living Torch.

Mobile, Ala., August 10.—Insane from grief over the sudden death of her husband, Mrs. Annie Miller McCargo escaped from her attendants yesterday at Olive Branch Springs, saturated her clothing and hair with oil and, proceeding to the main street of the town, touched matches to the oil, and in an instant was in full blaze. Spectators who attempted to extinguish the flames were fought off by the woman. Finally three men, with blankets, surrounded her and put out the fire. By this time she had lost consciousness, and died an hour later. Though undoubtedly suffering agony, not once throughout her self-inflicted ordeal did Mrs. McCargo utter a moan. Mrs. McCargo for years conducted the principal hotel in the city. Her husband, Attorney W. H. McCargo, died several days ago very suddenly. The shock unsettled her reason, and she was confined in a room under nurses' care. She begged constantly for freedom, that she might kill herself.

Mrs. Maybrick.

Paris, Aug. 11.—A dispatch from Rouen confirms the report that Mrs. Florence Maybrick left Rouen on July 25, for America, making close connection with a trans-Atlantic steamer. It required two vans to convey her twelve trunks to the station. During her visit to Paris, a few days before her departure, Mrs. Maybrick and her mother consulted a lawyer on her line of conduct. Mrs. Maybrick left in good health. It is probable that the story of Mrs. Maybrick's threatened blindness originated in the fact that, during the past week, three different residents of the Rue Tannery were operated on for cataract. The doctors, however, did not go to the home of Mrs. Maybrick's mother.

Quakers Appeal for the Lash.

Swarthmore, Pa., August 11.—This Quaker Borough's Council has forwarded to Governor Pennypacker, a petition for a law for the infliction of physical punishment upon "every person found guilty of criminal assault or attempted or threatened assault upon the woman or girls of our State." The resolution bears the signatures of Professor A. H. Tomlinson, president of the Swarthmore Preparatory School; Edward Sellers, secretary, and Fred M. Simons, chief burgess.

The New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug. 11.—The feature of the market was the excellent buying of Southern Pacific, with an advance of 24 per cent. recorded. The strength of the general market attracted a considerable amount of realizing, causing fractional recessions from best prices. The undertone continues quite strong.

Active search is being made by the New York police for Antonio Mannino, aged 9, the son of a wealthy Italian contractor in Brooklyn, who, it is believed, has been kidnapped by members of the notorious Black Hand society and is being held for ransom.

Judge Parker.

Esopus, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Judge Parker appeared blithe and happy today in spite of yesterday's notification ordeal. He is obviously well pleased with the impression made by his speech of acceptance upon his immediate audience at the ceremonies and is convinced that the opposition press has failed to make adequate answer to his arguments. Telegrams of congratulation came pouring in this morning and bid fair to rival in number the felicitations that followed his nomination. The Judge spent the entire morning over his newspaper and read every word in acclaim of or opposition to yesterday's speech. He has certainly changed his mind about the issuance of his letter of acceptance. He had first intended to devote himself, in this document, entirely to the distinction of his positive views, refraining from any answers to republican claims or criticisms.

Now he has determined to revise his letter of acceptance if necessary, in order that he may reply to the letter shortly to be sent out by President Roosevelt and will delay the issue of his own epistle to the people until the President's is published and digested.

Judge Parker made such an impression upon his audience yesterday that many think he should take the stump during the campaign.

Mr. Stanchfield is prominently spoken of for governor and those who are urging Mr. Lamont for that position are met with the argument that "the democratic nominee for governor of New York must be a man who voted regularly in 1896 and 1900."

The Chicago Strike.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—The situation in the stock yards strike this morning, took on a more peaceful appearance than has been shown in two weeks.

T. W. Foster for the retail butchers and grocers committee called on Thomas W. Connors, of Armour & Co., early today, to arrange for a joint session of the packers and the labor men together with the peace committee. Connors met the advances in a conciliatory spirit and stated that Armour was always willing to meet with their butchers. The tour of the other packing houses was then made and it is very likely that a general meeting of the principals will be arranged for this evening.

President Donnelly, of the butchers, has wired President Connors to come to Chicago if possible.

Boy Bandits Incarcerated.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—David Kelley, a member of the notorious "boy bandit" quartet, was found guilty yesterday of complicity in the murder of John Lane, stage carpenter at the Illinois Theatre, and he was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. James and William Formby and Peter Duffer, already have been sentenced to life imprisonment for their part in the killing of Lane, they having pleaded guilty. The "Northwest Trio" of bandits—Joseph Dolinski, Frank Czek, and Frank Krawozinski have entered the state prison at Joliet, to begin their life terms. When they were taken from the jail with nine other prisoners, the boys joked and talked with one another while riding to the depot.

Warrant For Bank Board.

Pittsburg, August 11.—There was quite an excitement in business circles yesterday afternoon when it was announced that warrants had been issued for the nine directors of the State Bank of Pittsburg, which went to the wall last February. William A. Snelling, a former depositor, swore out the warrants, charging them with receiving money on deposit after knowing the bank was insolvent. The directors gave bail for a hearing next Tuesday.

No One Pursued.

Louisville, Ky., August 11.—Congressman "Ollie" James, who weighs 275 pounds, leaped from a window at a poolroom in South Louisville last night when officers raided the place. He lost his hat in the leap, landed in a cornfield, darted down between two corn rows, and, after putting 300 yards between himself and danger, reached the street car track. Then, to his disgust, James learned the officers were after the proprietors and clerks only.

Teeth in the boy's jaws, after they attain ordinary size, loosen and fall out, and immediately are replaced by new ones.
